MARK HESS

PORTABLE GIFTED AND TALENTED

"THIS ONE GOES TO 11"

Gifted children experience the world in a more vivid and intense way than others. Gifted children make connections others do not, and they often absorb interactions with people, ideas, and the physical world in very personal and meaningful ways. In understanding gifted learners, we label these emotional, physical, and intellectual tendencies as overexcitabilities. Let's work together to understand and nurture the sensitivity, intensity, and development potential of gifted children.
