

2021 – 2022 Coaching for Excellence

Series Description

Through hands-on, real-life, and self-reflective activities, coaches will learn how to be an effective, transformative, and impactful instructional leader. Whether new to the role of a coach or with many years of experience, these sessions will build on existing skill sets. Participants will learn about the role of a coach, the day-to-day work of a coach, and will have the opportunity to refine their coaching skills to suit their individual coaching assignment. A digital notebook will be shared that contains content and activities built upon a foundation of Vygotskian Sociocultural Theory as well as research and articles from coaching experts such as ASCD, Elena Aguilar, Jim Knight, and Zaretta Hammond.

Target Audience

For K-12 Coaches, TOSAs, Coordinators, and other instructional leaders in Orange County

Series Objectives

- Understand the principles of coaching; including roles, relationships, and marketing
- Recognize and role-play types of coaching, coaching opportunities, coaching cycles, and coaching conversations
- Apply skills and knowledge about coaching to contextual vignettes, scenarios, and situations
