I'VE GOT YOUR BACK

Part 1:

School administration will select 3-5 staff advisors and a group of 15-20 student ambassadors from different social groups who are viewed as leaders by their peers.

The students will be trained to take a leadership role in bullying prevention efforts. They will pledge to provide support to peers and to promote a culture of kindness, inclusion, and acceptance.

Part 2:

A keynote speaker will present about bullying prevention at a schoolwide assembly where students will be empowered to stand up to bullying by recognizing it, reporting it, and seeking help when needed.

Student ambassadors will be introduced to initiate a pledge to create a positive, bully-free environment.

There is no cost to participate.
