

Look at the picture of the prickly pear cactus. Can you label the different parts of this plant?

This plant is able to grow fruit. Which part of the plant will turn into fruit?
Draw a circle around it.

Why do the parts of this plant look so different? Just by looking at the parts of the plant could you guess what habitat this plant might live in? Why?